School, college election Tuesday

Voters tomorrow will help elect 17 school and college board members as well as three regional school trustees.

In balloting from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday, five members will be elected to each of the Granite City, Madison and Venice boards governing public elementary and secondary schools.

Two Belleville Area College board six-year terms will be decided. The two incumbents, Robert Dintelmann and Mrs. Patricia Bartsokas, are opposed by Mrs. Betty Gerfen and Richard Hunsaker. Mrs. Bartsokas is chairman of the Board of Trustees of BAC, which established and operates the Granite City Center college.

Eleven are seeking five Granite City District Nine board posts.

The contenders for three four-year positions are David Partney, Robert Maxwell and Dewey Melton, incumbents, and Kelly Hogan, Kenneth Davis and Donald Gargac. Rivals for two two-year terms in Granite City are Pres. Donald Stucke and George Moore, incumbents, and Robert Brandmeier, Mrs. Ruth Lahr and Alan Crier.

Venice School District Three also will fill three four-year seats and two two-year positions.

Running for the longer terms are Pres. Wilbert Glasper, Gerald Cleo and Percy Guest, incumbents, and Mrs. Patricia King. Competing for the shorter Venice terms are Matthew Meehan and Kirk Gardner, incumbents, and Earl Hogan.

The five Madison District 12 incumbents who are unopposed tomorrow are Pres. Sam Dymas, Don Garrett and Frank Eaves, for four-year terms, and James E. Newsome and Paul Bargiel, for two-year terms.

Unopposed for three six-year terms on the Madison County Regional Board of School Trustees are Homer A. Huber, Joseph N. Berry and Earl F. Vuagniaux.

A list of the 63 local polling places appears elsewhere in today's Press-Record.

Body of slain GC soldier returned

The body of Army Captain Keith Joseph Lucas, 26, of Granite City, who died in the initial assault on the island of Grenada, is to be returned to Granite City this week, probably Tuesday, for funeral services.

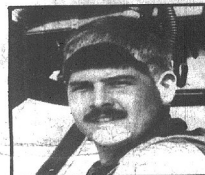

Capt. Lucas was assigned to the 101st Airborne Division at Fort Campbell, Ky., and died Tuesday, Oct. 25, while helicopter landing Rangers into combat on Grenada. Official word of his death reached his family Thursday.

BORN IN Granite City, Captain Lucas was a lifelong resident until entering military service.

He graduated in 1975 from Granite City High School North, where he played football and was selected "All Metro Guard."

Captain Lucas was commissioned a second lieutenant in military intelligence and began active duty in July 1979. He completed flight training in November 1980 and was then assigned to the 101st Airborne Division, in which he served as a battalion staff officer and a UH-60A Blackhawk flight pilot leader.

He and his wife, the former Paula

CAPT. KEITH LUCAS

Werths, have a daughter, Anne Marie, age 2.

MILITARY HONORS will be accorded Captain Lucas at a funeral mass at 10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 11, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, 2900 Washington Ave. Burial will be in the National Cemetery at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Additional details may be found in today's obituary column.

Most jurors on duty today

BY BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Most jurors crossed international picket lines today, enabling scheduled criminal trials and civil trials to proceed. Chief Circuit Judge A. A. Mateosian told the Press-Record.

Pickets were posted Nov. 1 after expiration of Madison County's agreement with sheriff deputies and jailers, members of the Operating Engineers. The sheriff staff is continuing to work but says its health and welfare benefits should not be reduced. About $30,000 in yearly costs is involved.

Members of Local 799, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, on Thursday began joining the picketing during their time off, but are performing their county governmental jobs as usual.

There were three absences among 69 jurors today, a ratio considered normal, Judge Mateosian said.

In a joint statement, County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer and Negotiating Committee members have expressed regret that an impasse has been reached with Engineers Local 520C. No new talks are currently scheduled, officials said today.

Herbert "Junior" Milton, committee chairman, says both sides bargained in good faith but he believes county finances do not allow the board to offer more than it has.

"We experienced severe declines in revenue over the past several

Janice Brimberry refuses to testify

Mrs. Janice Brimberry again invoked her Fifth Amendment rights against testifying Thursday afternoon at the second hearing in Granite City in an attempt to collect a judgment against the Brimberys.

In the civil action case of Wade Rollins versus Miller Excavating Company, Mrs. Brimberry, who would not answer questions during her testimony two weeks ago, again refused to answer questions establishing her as Thomas Brimberry's wife.

MILLER EXCAVATING Co. had been among Brimberry's holdings and Arthur Miller Sr., who operated Miller Excavating, is Mrs. Brimberry's father.

Nick Vasileff, attorney for the plaintiff, has filed a motion to discover assets in an attempt to collect a judgment of $24,900 for his client. Rollins contends he was not paid for sand removed from his fish pond by the excavating company, nor for damage done to his boat dock. Vasileff is trying to establish what happened to the assets of the excavating company, (which are reportedly less than the judgment) so that his client may be paid.

When Mrs. Brimberry took the stand at about 3:30 p.m. Thursday, she stated, "My name is Janice Brimberry." She invoked her Fifth Amendment rights on the grounds of possible self-incrimination on all other questions.

VASILEFF handed Mrs. Brimberry documents, which included her testimony in the case of the United States of America versus James Massa and Duane Skinner that occurred on April 7 and 8, 1983. In the documents, Mrs. Brimberry identified herself as Thomas Brimberry's wife and also gave testimony about her knowledge of Brimberry's affairs in the collapse of the Stix and Co. brokerage in St. Louis.

Mrs. Brimberry examined the documents, but would not identify them as her testimony, nor would she answer any of the following questions: "Are you Thomas Brimberry's wife?" "Did you testify in the case of the United States of America versus James Massa and Duane Skinner?" "Would your answer be the same no matter what question I asked you?" "What did you have for breakfast this morning?" "Are you of the female gender?"

After the last question, Mrs. Brimberry's attorney, David Lubell of New York, objected on the grounds that Vasileff was badgering the witness.

LUBELL ALSO cited and presented a court case concerning Pillsbury, whereby a subject under similar circumstances used the Fifth Amendment to save his privileges. The subject, otherwise, would have waived all future rights to use the Fifth Amendment.

Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand, who presided over the hearing, ruled that Mrs. Brimberry was in a similar situation to that of the subject in the Pillsbury case, and thus was allowed to decline to answer. However, he said that he did not feel she had been badgered by Vasileff. "I think Mr. Vasileff was merely trying to make a point," the judge stated.

The hearing was recessed by Judge Hildebrand, who said that further testimony in the case would be set upon request.

COURTHOUSE PICKETING threatens to disrupt county activities, including jury trials, this week. Shown on the line outside the courthouse at Edwardsville are Sheriff's Deputy Ed Wiegers, left, of Collinsville and Jack Rogers of Granite City. Sheriff's deputies set up informational pickets last week in an effort to have health insurance benefits in a new contract maintained at current levels. Some members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees now have joined the deputies in picketing.

Charged with auto burglary

Curtis D. Spinks, 19, of 2807 Iowa St., was charged with auto burglary in an informational document issued last week by the Madison County state's attorney's office.

Spinks was taken into custody last week near a vehicle in the 4200 block of the Kirkpatrick Homes, where police went after a resident alleged seeing a person open a vent window and enter an auto.

At police headquarters, it was alleged Spinks placed a cannabis cigarette on the booking window and he was charged with possession of cannabis. An active warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a charge of prowling also was served on Spinks while he was in custody.

He appeared before Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand and was sentenced to serve 10 days in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville on the prowling charge and bond was set at $3,000 cash on the burglary and cannabis possession charges.

Partney responds to election coverage

Responding to Thursday's Press-Record articles and editorial endorsements, David Partney, a candidate for re-election to a four-year term on the Granite City Board of Education, said he has no desire to take control of the board, which the Press-Record said was a concern.

Partney contended Board Member Monroe Worthen has control of the board and is not likely to lose it, no matter who is elected tomorrow. "I don't think any certain person should have control of the board. I think we should all vote as individuals."

"If I wanted control of the board, I would have five candidates on my slate, as the other side does," Partney said. He noted that he made certain arrangements with candidates Kelly Hogan and Alan Crider only to split up the cost of campaign workers. "I'm not obligated to them and they're not obligated to me. I believe in people being independent," he said.

Partney objected to a reference to the fact that his brother, Dan, spoke for him at a school campaign forum and also a phrase, "the brothers." David Partney says his brother has no input into his school board activities and is not likely to be in the future. "The brothers don't think together. Dan isn't running; I am," David said.

Quotes from local children were pointed out by Partney, who said Worthen has no children in the schools at present but Partney has three who will be there for several years. "I have a deep concern what our district comes to," he said.

Partney also said he was surprised by a statement that Superintendent of Schools B.J. Davis fears "extremists" in this election. "The candidates are not extremists. They have the school system at heart and want to do something to help it."

"Maybe we should have more new ideas. We are at the verge of bankruptcy," Partney added.

He said the district relies on borrowing and commented that recent rescinding of pay cuts for some administrators hurt the credibility of the district, both with financial institutions and teachers.

Commenting on a quote that mentioned "mud slinging," Partney said, "I have seen no candidate sling mud. Yes, there are facts being used. You can't call that mud slinging."

Partney also pointed to a quote accusing him of "leaking" negotiating information. He said he warned teachers that the district actually had no money to grant pay raises and that to continue a work stoppage would not help the situation. "If this is leaking information, yes, I'm guilty."

In a last minute allegation, Partney charged Saturday that Attorney William Schooley had contributed printing costs in excess of $500 for printing campaign material for Partney's opposition teach which reached every registered voter's home by mail. The contribution was not reported within two business days, as required by law, Partney charged.

Schooley told the Press-Record that the money was from the group's Oct. 15 fund raiser and that no one, including himself, had made any contributions exceeding $500 to the campaign.

Partney also charged that the Committee For Excellence in Education, which sent out the campaign mailing, was not registered with the county clerk's office and the committee was just formed after the fund raiser and is not required to register for 30 days after forming.

"If the proper papers will be submitted Monday, I won't cross the deputy's picket line up there," Schooley stated.

He said all proper campaign disclosure papers will be filed within the required time.

Partney concluded by saying that he feels he has been one of the hardest working board members and has played an important role in keeping the public informed on the school district's finances, as well as looking out for the taxpayers of the district.

'Principals not being overpaid'

Continuing to disagree with assertions that administrators should work for 90 percent of last year's pay, Monroe Worthen of the Granite City School Board said during the weekend this would have left their salaries only slightly above the teachers' pay despite added responsibilities.

Not only does a principal shoulder the responsibilities for an entire school, but also there is longer work, Worthen said; in addition, like teachers, administrators have a heavier workload this year than last year.

An administrator receiving $31,811 pay was cut $3,181 to $28,630 before the reduction was rescinded, Worthen said; a teacher with similar experience receives $28,844 base pay. Accompanying a general salary freeze for teachers were increments that totaled $56,313 for 34 teachers, an average raise of $1,656; increments enable individuals to advance on the pay schedule based on an added year of experience, he related.

In contrast, administrative increments ($4,325) and adjustments ($5,400) total $9,725, Worthen said. In this total, one received a $2,400 adjustment after he and members of his department spearheaded changes that saved taxpayers $600,000 in yearly costs, the veteran board member commented. Others' pay changes related to increased duties, he said.

"Our principals and administrators are not being overpaid," it was asserted. The administrative staff was reduced in size this year by a net of about three persons, Worthen noted.

To have required administrators to work in 1983-84 for 10 percent less than in 1982-83 would have been an undeserved "slap in the face" to those with the duties of operating the district and its schools, he summed up, adding:

It would have been detrimental to the fostering of best effort, morale and loyalty, since it would have "singled out administrators as less important than all other school employees, and treated the principals and administrators as second-class citizens."

In opposing the concept of "one-man board rule," Worthen said that "six of the members have shown outstanding integrity and dedication. Anyone who has watched the board knows that each has a mind of his own. The only common bond is concern for what is best for the school children."

Hearing on Arch area Illinois work

Congressman Melvin Price (D-21st Illinois District) has announced that public hearings will be held on his bill to authorize the U.S. Secretary of the Interior to expand the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial National Historic Site across the Mississippi River from the Gateway Arch to the East St. Louis waterfront.

"The chairman of the Subcommittee on Public Lands and National Parks has scheduled a hearing on my bill for Nov. 15," Price said.

"I am gratified by the groundswell of local support, and I am hopeful that favorable results will be forthcoming so that long-term development of the riverfront can proceed."

10-DAY JAIL SENTENCE
Keith A. Ebersoll, 17, of 2102 Dewey Ave. was arrested Thursday in the 1700 block of Madison Avenue for driving without a valid license and also was booked on a warrant alleging leaving an accident scene. Appearing in court that afternoon, he was fined $500 and sentenced to ten days in the Madison County jail.

Charge Venice man in holdup

Informational documents alleging armed robbery and armed violence were issued against Kevin Campbell, 27, of 161 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, last week by the Madison County state's attorney's office to Venice police.

Campbell was in custody when the warrants were authorized and was transferred from the Venice facility to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Laura Moody is appointed to license board

Laura K. Moody, executive director of The Hope Clinic for Women, Ltd., in Granite City, has been appointed by Governor James Thompson to the board of directors of the Ambulatory Surgical Treatment Center Licensing Board.

The board advises and consults with the Department of Public Health, which established, and enforces standards for the care of patients receiving medical services in outpatient facilities in the state.

The Hope Clinic for Women, Ltd., is an ambulatory surgical treatment center providing abortion services, male and female sterilization, exploratory laparoscopic female surgery and other related surgeries. The clinic also provides counseling with all services.

Laura Moody has been executive director of the clinic since 1974. She is a registered nurse with a master's degree in business administration.

The Venice man allegedly used a shotgun Oct. 21 to hold up Garrett's Cut Rate Tavern, 337 Weaver St., Venice, where patrons and employees alleged a man came into the back area of the tavern, pointed the shotgun and stated, "Don't anybody move."

Everybody started running from the room, it was reported, and when police arrived, an estimated crowd of nearly 100 people had gathered outside the premises.

A total of about $130 was taken in the robbery. The money is believed to belong to at least three people, reports said. After grabbing the cash, the man fled from the tavern, running toward West Madison. The area was searched, but the man was not found.

Shortly afterward, officers went to Campbell's home in Venice, where a man spoke to officers through the door, but declined to open it.

An officer saw Campbell through a mirror on a stairway inside and alleged the man jumped over the railing on the stairs and fled through the kitchen and a rear door.

At that time, the state's attorney's office agreed there was sufficient grounds to issue a search warrant and Associate Judge Thomas E. Hildebrand signed a search document that night.

Campbell was arrested after Venice officers returned to the dwelling, gained entrance and found the man inside.

Everyone should cast a ballot

Be sure and vote tomorrow. That suggestion is not new, but it is still pertinent. If all eligible voters participate, the outcome could not help but reflect the true wishes of the majority. If only a few take the trouble to cast a ballot, the result could be unsatisfactory.

Voting is set for 63 Quad-City polling places, or 70 in one sense; seven of the 63 will serve two different school districts, at points where district lines cross township precincts.

The three Venice school polls and 11 Madison school voting centers may not seem unusually excessive, although two and four did the job before the state election consolidation law went into effect.

In Granite City District Nine, instead of the nine elementary schools (formerly 16 and then 13), tomorrow's balloting will take place in 56 precincts.

(Some rent will be saved because, in six instances, one building will be the site of two different polling places.)

The cost to Madison County of so many polls will be high, and the same pattern is occurring throughout Illinois. Progress certainly is wonderful, isn't it? It's a good thing all us taxpayers are rich; or we wouldn't be able to afford all those enlightened election planners in Springfield.

In any case, polling places are located conveniently for everyone, and there is no good reason not to vote between 6 a.m. and 7 p.m. Tuesday.

To have affordable and effective college and elementary-secondary instruction, everyone owes it to himself and to fellow citizens to go to a little trouble, stop by the neighborhood center, and vote for the candidates of one's choice.

Not all campaign issues valid

We do not generally disagree with election advertising. Campaign committees have a right to present their points of view.

But we'll take exception to a couple of points raised in Thursday's issue regarding tomorrow's election competition.

One ad quoted a front-page Press-Record article as saying that Granite City schools are good and getting better, with test scores topping state and national averages.

The real point of that article was that the citizens advisory committee (not the newspaper) is considering proposing big changes, even though they do not regard past approaches as failures. They want to build, not on ashes, but on the solid foundation of what has been achieved so far.

Instead of the science upsurge of a generation ago, the new emphasis will be on fundamentals—fitting the "three R's" alongside computer and other added classes by teaching more information than before during the day, and by assigning more homework. It relates to a national trend, one that will not take hold overnight. It does not have much relationship to tomorrow's election.

The other ad tried to make the point that pay raises have been granted during District Nine tough financial times. Here is the truth of the matter:

Nobody is disputing what was voted for two persons, who for different reasons have been paid abnormally low pay. And nobody is disagreeing with normal increments for several young administrators who, like other employees, are recognized each 12 months for having an added year of experience.

What the controversy is all about is "adjustments" for three individuals:

One was a principal who replaced the retired Chapter 1 supervisor and will receive the previous supervisor was paid; one was a principal who was promoted to administrative assistant for secondary schools; one was a curriculum coordinator who was promoted to administrative assistant for elementary schools.

Moving up to a new job and receiving the new job's pay perhaps does involve a raise, but it is hardly "man bites dog" news. If there did not happen to be an election tomorrow, we suspect it would not be a discussion topic today.

+++++ Election campaigns do seem to create unusual behavior.

We were told the other day by an AFL-CIO official that he was shocked to learn a local school district is failing to balance its budget and is millions of dollars in debt.

We thought the unions were told that when AFL-CIO members were seeking more pay and more jobs from the district.

Who grows the "money tree" when voters oppose higher taxes and employees want more? That, of course, is not the union leader's worry; that's the board's problem.

Schermer supports incumbent BAC trustees

To the Editor:

On Tuesday, Nov. 8, the people of our area will have the opportunity to vote on two trustees for Belleville Area College. Two of the candidates are incumbents and they are the ones who helped bring the "College" to Granite City.

REPLACED EMPLOYEES SALUTE CUSTOMERS

To the Editor: After Saturday, Nov. 5, P.N. Hirsch & Co. downtown will have a new look, new employees and new ownership. Those of us old employees wished to write this letter to say goodbye to all of our customers over the years.

As we start looking for new jobs, we look back and think of all of the good times we had.

We hope we will continue to see you, no matter where we end up.

CHRIS DONNA MARLENA BARB CINDY

They are Robert Dintelmann and Pat Bartoski, the first two on the ballot, and I can tell you from past experience that these trustees really have the interests of the Granite City area in their heart.

We have made a terrific start opening Granite City Center, but there is a lot to be done with new programs and improving old ones.

There is no point in breaking up a "winning team." Whatever you can do to help re-elect Dintelmann and Mrs. Bartoski will be appreciated, not only by me, but by our local people, now and in the future. We will benefit from the Granite City Center.

Your paper was most kind in covering the "birth" of our college.

FOR A JOB WELL DONE

To the Editor: "Crackdown of law enforcement in Granite City is long overdue."

I congratulate our police officers! PATRICIA ANDERSON Granite City

In Granite City. You can help insure its future success by urging your readers to re-elect Dintelmann and Mrs. Bartoski.

SUGGESTS FLYING THE U.S. FLAG ON FRIDAY

To the Editor: Due to the lack of a sponsor for the patriotic "All American Flag Contest," there will be no program at Wilson Park, near the F&M Jet Memorial dedicated to our living and deceased servicemen of Granite City, this Veterans' Day, Friday, Nov. 11.

Fly "Ole Glory," our American Flag, in respect and honor for our servicemen who fought and died for those living and for the men who perished in the recent Beirut, Lebanon, tragedy and in the crisis of Grenada, where local Army Captain Keith Lucas died, bringing the conflict closer to home.

The buyer has recourse when deceived

This office is frequently contacted by consumers who feel they have been deceived in a variety of situations. Some who have purchased goods from merchants complain that the articles are defective and that the merchants intentionally deceived them. Others may have purchased a car from a dealer which doesn't run properly and needs repairs. The question often arises as to what cause of action these consumers have under Illinois law.

Injured consumers can proceed under the Consumer Fraud Deceptive Practices Act which prohibits unfair or deceptive acts or practices and unfair methods of competition. This act has been interpreted in such a manner by the Illinois courts that now nearly any act or practice which demonstrates even the remotest degree of unfairness or deception to Illinois consumers, is probably actionable under Illinois law.

It was the intention of the Illinois legislature in enacting this law to protect consumers to the utmost. It should be noted that under this act, the injured party can recover not only his damages but also attorney's fees.

Another provision of this law which is frequently misunderstood is the three-day "cooling-off" provision, which allows a buyer of merchandise to cancel a sale in certain instances. The sale may be canceled if the merchandise costs $25 or more and the contract or call was made at the residence of the buyer and the

Law and you

By Rick Reed Attorney at Law

buyer did not solicit the contract or call. All three of these conditions must be met in order for a buyer to cancel a sale within three business days.

Frequently calls are received by this office from buyers who have gone to a store to purchase goods and wish to cancel this sale within three days. Obviously, the purchase of goods at a department store does not fall within this three-day "cooling-off" provision.

It should be noted that the courts have found that each sale must be accompanied by a written "Notice of Cancellation" containing such information as is necessary to inform the buyer of his rights and the address or phone number where the cancellation may be directed. Failure of the merchant to furnish such information prevents the running of the three-day period.

ARTHUR TRACKEL

BILL SCHREIBER

Press-Record readers were asked this week if they think the proposed three cent postage hike for first class mail would affect the number of letters they send. Their reactions follow:

Arthur Trackel, Granite City
"Yes, a postage hike would affect my letter sending. I wouldn't be writing as many letters or cards as I do now. I'd only send the essential letters, like bills, birthday cards and Christmas cards."

Bill Schreiber, Granite City
"I don't think a postage increase would affect the amount of letters I send. I don't send a lot of letters because I don't have a lot of relatives that live out of town. I think the postal service will get its increase; 23 cents is still cheaper than the price of gas you would have to pay if you had to drive your car to the places to pay your bills."

Judy Carter, Granite City
"I don't think an increase would bother me, but if I mailed a tremendous amount of letters, it might. To me, 20 cents is a pitiful little to spend for a letter. And I always get good service at the post office."

Gerald Bergrader, Granite City
"No, an increase wouldn't affect me to any great degree. I just mail bills mostly. If the post office doesn't get this stamp increase now, they will get one pretty soon. It's inevitable that we'll get another increase, just like the last time."

The Form . . .

Says Granite City police helped her often

To the Editor:

I woke this morning with my dog sleeping under the bed. Yesterday he jumped out of the car as I mailed a letter. I rode around looking, calling and trying to see a black dog in the dark.

After an hour, I drove to the police station and said I didn't know whether Poochie has sense enough to come home. I was informed that they would see about him.

I have had the police do things for me that a family of people do for a member. They helped me with a relative more times than I can remember after she had a stroke three years ago.

They have helped me with tenants that I could not manage. They have crawled through a basement window to unlock the door when I locked myself out. Whatever goes awry, my help comes from the police.

I don't know what I would do without our Granite City police. Sometimes, I feel that I must be a pain in the neck to them, and that they could do without me, but I certainly could not do without them. God bless each and everyone at the police station. I love you all.

GC firemen not soliciting advertisements

To the Editor:

It has come to the attention of Granite City Firefighters Local 253 that the Associated Firefighters of Illinois are soliciting the local business community for ads in their "Illinois Firefighter Magazine."

In fact, utility taxes in Illinois are the highest in the nation. And the utility tax is that state government's fastest growing revenue source, with collections doubling in just the past six years.

It's hard to think of a more unfair, unwise and regressive tax than a tax on utility services. Since it's a tax on necessities such as heat, light and phone service, it hits average families the hardest. Since it's a tax on one of the principal costs of doing business in Illinois, it damages the state investment climate, particularly for small businesses which can't take advantage of the discounts granted large volume utility users.

The Taxpayer Relief Act of 1984 would cut the state utility tax from five percent to two and one-half percent. This measure would save the average household between $50 and $150 a year, and a total of $300 million a year for all Illinois families and businesses.

This tax relief would be funded by closing a series of loopholes adopted by the General Assembly since 1981 which benefit giant multi-national corporations almost exclusively. These loopholes—which actually subsidize corporate purchases made out-of-state or overseas—hurt the competitive position of small businesses and dampens consumer spending by forcing the rest of us to pay higher taxes.

But the Taxpayer Relief Act will never be enacted by the Illinois General Assembly in a business-as-usual atmosphere. Since the utility tax goes up every time the Illinois Commerce Commission grants a rate hike to a utility company, the state treasury receives a tax windfall without politicians ever having to raise the tax itself. This windfall, combined with the traditional power of multinational corporation lobbyists in Springfield, is usually enough to block tax reform efforts like the Taxpayer Relief Act.

That's why the Coalition for Political Honesty is trying to get the Taxpayer Relief Act placed on city and county ballots across the state.

We do not want to jeopardize that relationship by being misrepresented by another organization.

We ask that in the event any business is solicited, that they contact the fire departments so that we can contact the state association and try to rectify the situation.

JIM STRACK President, Firefighters Local 253

Seeks to reduce state utility tax burden

To the Editor:

Everyone who pays a phone, gas or electric bill knows that these bills have been skyrocketing in recent years. But many people aren't aware that five percent of their phone, gas and electric bills is a tax paid to the state government.

In fact, utility taxes in Illinois are the highest in the nation. And the utility tax is that state government's fastest growing revenue source, with collections doubling in just the past six years.

It's hard to think of a more unfair, unwise and regressive tax than a tax on utility services. That's why the Coalition for Political Honesty is trying to get the Taxpayer Relief Act placed on city and county ballots across the state.

By voting yes for the Taxpayer Relief Act, voters can send a clear message to Springfield—it's time to break up the cozy relationship between state fire departments and back-breaking utility rate increases.

McARTHUR USED U.S.S. BOISE ALSO

To the Editor: Your paper of 10-17-83 has a big writeup about a Granite City hero, who says General MacArthur served on the U.S.S. Nashville and made it sound as if that was the only ship the general used.

If the U.S.S. Boise ship log, etc., were checked with the government records, you would find he also used this ship.

Just to set the record straight, let's give all our boys who fought for their country the credit they deserve.

Madison County Federal is offering brokerage aid

Madison County Federal Savings & Loan Association President Paul F. Sodko has announced an agreement in which customers will be offered brokerage service by BSLA Securities, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank for Savings and Loan Associations, Chicago.

Under the terms of the agreement, customers of Madison County Federal Savings and Loan may open accounts with BSLA Securities, Inc., at the savings and loan's offices. Customers may then use a special toll-free number to BSLA Securities, Inc., to transact securities business.

Sodko said, "By offering the availability of brokerage services to our customers, we have become a full-service financial institution. This arrangement allows customers to open brokerage accounts through our savings and loan and our customers will be able to take advantage of the lower commission charges available from the discount brokerage service."

Sodko also cited a study by a market research firm published recently that indicates 42 percent of those interviewed thought that financial institutions should offer discount brokerage. "It's part of our continuing effort to assist the public by providing the services they need and want," said Sodko.

Customers will be able to buy and sell stock; corporate, municipal or government bonds; warrants; rights; convertible debt securities; and options. Trades will be executed on all major stock exchanges as well as in the over-the-counter market.

Bank for Savings and Loan Associations, the parent corporation, is the only commercial bank owned and operated by the Savings and Loan industry and presently serves more than 900 Savings and Loan Associations nationwide.

Award to Laboray from pro-gun group

The Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms has selected Frederick J. Laboray of Granite City to receive a citizen of the year award.

Laboray was selected because of a dedication to the efforts to preserve the right of the people to keep and bear arms, as guaranteed by the Second Amendment to the United States Constitution, a spokesman said.

"If it weren't for people like Frederick J. Laboray, our Constitutional rights would have been eroded years ago," stated Alan Gottlieb, chairman of the Citizens Committee.

In addition to his wife of 46 years, there are two children, Larry and Sharon.

Mr. McBride, hospitalized three times since 1980 for heart problems, was well known here. Until attaining the USWA presidency in 1977, he was director of this region's union district, District 34. He was in his second four-year term as international president.

David Roderick, U.S. Steel chairman, called him "one of the most outstanding labor leaders in America's history" and said "the country will miss his responsible leadership."

Convinced that the union could be rebuilt someday to its former size, Mr. McBride had seen its membership reduced by about one-fourth due to the current economic recession.

Vice President Joseph Odoirich is seen as the leading potential successor. Others include Vice President Leon Lynch, Secretary Lynn Williams and Treasurer Frank McKee. The 29-member executive board will hold a presidential election this winter.

TRAFFIC CITATIONS

The current drive to halt speeding vehicles and reduce other traffic offenses in Granite City continued in full force over the weekend.

Between 9:55 a.m. Friday and 4:50 a.m. today, a total of 183 traffic citations was issued to vehicle operators and owners.

Many citations handed out were for alleged speeding violations or for not having a city vehicle sticker displayed. Several motorists, however, received tickets for allegedly driving under the influence of alcohol.

Drivers are being advised to watch their road manners and use caution on the drive continues in the community.

United Way campaign reaches 68.5 percent of its goal

With only two weeks left before the final report meeting of the 1983 fall campaign of the Tri-Cities Area United Way, the fund drive has reached 68.5 percent of its $670,000 goal.

Eric Robertson, vice chairman of the campaign, made the announcement at the third report luncheon Friday afternoon at the Community Club on the Granite City Army Installation. He reported pledges to date of $458,594.

A breakdown of the total pledges to date by groups (with the group goals in parentheses) follows: Group A ($85,000) — $47,628, 56 percent; Group B ($60,000) — $42,630, 71.1 percent; Group C ($46,000) — $23,025, 50.1 percent; Group D ($479,000) — $345,311, 72.1 percent.

Linda Schermer, vice chairman of Group A (private donors, business and commercial) made the first presentation of the Volunteer Solicitor Award for the report meeting. Recipient in Group A was Howard Eitherton. Dr. Felicia Koch, vice chairman of Group B (professionals, non-profit agencies and organizations) presented the special award for her group to William Monical.

The volunteer award in Group C (government employees, schools and service clubs), headed by Terry Salem, was shared by Joni Karandjeff and Mary Matosian. Group D (industry, construction and transportation) vice chairman Fred Steinkuehler presented the Volunteer Solicitor Award in his group to Leonard Moore.

Edward Sambuchi, vice president and general manager of Granite City Steel, was guest speaker at the luncheon-meeting. He also provided some of the entertainment for the gathering.

His talk centered on the teamwork necessary to make a campaign, like the United Way fall campaign, a success. He stressed that no one person can make a successful campaign by himself and it takes a concerted effort by all involved to make it happen.

To help visualize his talk, Sambuchi played "Meet Me In St. Louis" to a waltz tempo and "Roll Out The Barrel" to a polka beat. The melody was played on a kazoo and he accompanied himself on a "stomping fiddle," an instrument made of several other instruments, including a cow bell, sleigh bells, wood block and an improvised string bass, all played with a bow.

Then, to aid in visualizing the team effort he spoke of, nine members of the Granite City High School Band, directed by Louis Meek, retired director of music for the Granite City school district, played the same selections, using conventional brass instruments.

Topping off his presentation, Sambuchi and the high school students played "Roll Out The Barrel" together.

Special gold and silver awards were presented by Robertson to representatives of several corporations and employee groups for fair share giving and increased support over last year's pledges.

In closing, Bill Terrell, president of the United Way, said, "We're really going to have to work hard to meet our goal by the next meeting." He charged the group leaders, divisional leaders and all the volunteer solicitors to make an extra effort to call on all outstanding accounts as soon as possible to help attain success in this year's campaign.

"Our agencies really need this money to operate and we really hope we reach our goal to meet their needs," Terrell said.

The fourth and final report meeting and luncheon is scheduled for noon Friday, Nov. 18, at the Community Center on the Granite City Army Installation. Those interested in attending this report meeting should contact the United Way office as soon as possible to make reservations.

ELMER R. GOODE, a broker with Carl Hoffman Realty, has been awarded membership in the Illinois Realtors' Two Million Dollar Club. He reached the $2 million goal Sept. 30. He also holds life membership in the Million Dollar Club and in the Illinois President's Club with $5 million in sales the past five consecutive years.

Madison seeks mini-grant for student betterment

By DONNA KIMBERO
of the Press-Record

The Madison Board of Education Thursday night approved a request from Dolores Folkerts, curriculum director, to apply for a competitive mini grant.

She explained that specially-designated award grants from Area Five, Regional Superintendents' Association, in conjunction with the Illinois State Board of Education, are available for resources for behavioral improvement of elementary and secondary education pupils and will be used at the Middle School in Madison, Ill. received.

Board members voted to change the date of the next meeting from Thursday, Nov. 12 to Tuesday, Nov. 15, which also will be the night for open house of Madison Schools in conjunction with American Education Week, set for Nov. 13 to 15.

The theme for the 1983 year is, "A Strong Nation Needs Strong Schools" and is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, American Legion, National Education Association, National School Boards Association.

According to the announcement, three areas of vital concern to schools of Madison Community Unit 12 and to the community are: "Accountability — for what you do and how you do it. Responsibility — for your actions. Respect — for self and others.

Blair, Harris, Louis Baer, Middle School and Madison High School will all be open from 2 to 4 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. for tours and visitation in classrooms during the week-long open house.

Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff discussed the district immunization survey summary report, noting the district has reached 88 percent of its 100 percent compliance goal.

"Since the report was compiled, there are some pupils who have appointments with doctors and may have completed the immunization requirements by this time," Palchiff explained.

Of the district total of 1,492 students, there were 24 listed as not in full compliance with the immunization and physical examination requirements, according to the report issued during the meeting.

Superintendent Palchiff also spoke on a current legal battle in which a consolidated class action suit is seeking a court ruling that the interest on tax monies invested by county treasurers should be paid to the school districts or municipalities whose monies was invested.

"This informative letter from the office of Harold Briggs, regional superintendent of schools, sounds like the school district may receive funds when the courts finally make a decision," Palchiff said.

A request from Madison Senior High School's Fellowship of Christian Athletes for permission to sponsor a charity benefit basketball game for needy families of Madison on Nov. 18 from 6 to 10 p.m. was granted by the board members.

Admission for the game will be $1 for students and $1.50 for adults or donations in the form of canned goods — two cans for students and three for adults.

Blair School calendar of events was accepted as follows: Christmas program on Dec. 19; Santa's visit and Christmas party, Dec. 22; Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. program, Jan. 13; Valentine party, Feb. 14; Black history program performing group at the school's own expense in February; Easter Bunny visit in April; mini-olympics May 18, and awards day and balloon festival on May 22.

The board agreed to assume the expenses incurred for Wanita Graham, a teacher at the Madison Middle School, to attend the IAFEP State Convention Nov. 17 to 19 in Springfield, Ill.

Board members also directed the superintendent to write letters of appreciation to the students, security, Boosters Club and the fire and police departments, for planning and executing the Halloween parade and dance for the young students in Madison with no unpleasant incidents.

CANCEL PLAN MEETING BUT APPEAL IS SLATED

The regular Thursday meeting of the Granite City Plan Commission has been cancelled due to lack of business.

The city's Board of Appeals, however, will conduct its next regular session at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday in the Mayor's Conference Room, City Hall, 2000 Edison Ave.

The board will consider the request of Paul Coban Jr., 2104 East 94th St., to build a garage one foot from the side property line.

Courthouse picketing years and there was a $1 million decrease since 1982. The county experienced large-scale layoffs in 1982-83, including 17 sheriff deputies," the statement relates.

"The county has requested that any dollar increases in wages and benefits be exchanged for reductions in benefits currently offered.

"Information from the 1983 Salary Survey of the Urban Counties Council, drawing from all 102 Illinois counties, shows that deputies in Madison County earn more than any other sheriff deputies in the state.

"The deputies and jailers receive a fully-paid health and hospitalization insurance package for themselves and their dependents, a longevity increase of 5, 10 and 15 percent of base wage after 5, 10 and 15 years of employment, a sick leave bonus of $500 per person for missing less than six days of work annually, a school incentive bonus rewarding previous educational effort of up to $128 a month, 16 paid sick days, 11 paid holidays and two or more weeks' vacation.

Circuit Judge William Johnson has been endeavoring to avoid passing informational pickets and conferred Friday with lawyers around a table in a tavern adjacent to the Courthouse in Edwardsville. He later went to a bank board room and then a probation office. Some of the other judges also utilized alternate sites.

Several courthouse annexes have been picketed. However, deputies—who arrested some of the defendants—say they are not trying to prevent successful prosecution. State's Attorney Don Weber and Public Defender William Kinder are allowing their employees to decide whether to cross picket lines.

About 100 members of the sheriff's staff are involved in the dispute, and the AFSCME represents about 400. Some of the latter members who are picketing are on layoff status.

AFSCME itself is negotiating a wage reopener clause with the county, and the possibility of a future disagreement exists because of the continuing financial problem.

Because deputies joined SUE police officers' picketing last month in a dispute now settled, university police picketed last week at the county highway department.

Teamsters Local 925 members crossed the picket line.

Operating Engineers say they agreed to many concessions with the county but feel the government should absorb higher overall health benefit costs. They are not seeking a pay raise.

Michael Morlan wins poster contest

Fire Prevention Month at Granite City Steel featured a display of posters designed by children of GCS employees this year. The posters were the winning ones in a fire safety contest conducted by the steel company in October, and they were displayed in more than 50 locations around the plant and offices.

The winners in the contest in each of three age groups were: ages 13 to 16, Sherrie Barnes, age 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Barnes of Edwardsville; ages 9 to 12, Michael Morlan, age 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morlan, 3019 Mockingbird Lane, and ages 5 to 8, Bridget Cannon, age 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Cannon, St. Louis County.

Each of the winning artists received a $100 U.S. Savings Bond from Granite City Steel, while their parents received framed reproductions of the posters, fire extinguishers for their homes and dinners at the restaurants of their choice.

Judges in the contest included GCS Fire Prevention Supervisor Mel Leibach, Jack Greer of United Steel Workers Local 30 and James "Bus" York of Chemical Workers Local 50.

Echols concerned about results of lead testing

At the last Venice City Council meeting, Mayor Tyrone Echols expressed serious concern about a lead contamination report released Tuesday by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

Mayor Echols informed the council of calls he had received Tuesday afternoon from the news media, regarding a lead contamination report released Tuesday by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, but which city officials had not yet received.

"I don't want to alarm you," the mayor told the aldermen, "but the information I am getting from the news media is that the EPA has come up with some conclusions from the tests they've done in Venice and got some high figures."

"I AM FAIRLY ALARMED that they (EPA) didn't notify me first before the papers. What I've learned is that the levels of lead in certain areas of Venice are very high."

"They (reporters) relayed to me reports that say there were 44,000 parts of lead per million found in the alley of the 200 block of Granville Avenue (north) and 41,000 parts per million in the same block in the other alley, 1,200 parts per million in the alley near St. Mark School and 3,800 parts per million out on Slough Road."

"From what I understand, about 200 parts of lead per million or less may be normal," the mayor said. (According to the IEPA, between 50 and 100 parts per million generally is found on the average in communities).

"Considering the density of these (amounts) I imagine my intent will be to do some blood testing and updating and we will have to work in conjunction with the IEPA to rectify it (lead problem) and find a solution."

MAYOR ECHOLS noted that lead-coated battery casings were apparently broken up and spread on alleys or used as landfill and ground cover years ago.

"The battery casings had been sitting on top of a pile of lead at 15th and State streets in Granite City," the mayor said, noting that he will keep the council advised as to future reports.

The council adopted a resolution concerning the annual Motor Fuel Tax agreement for the maintenance of streets and highways in Venice, which totaled $59,309.

Mrs. Gertrude Young, chairman of Family and Friends Day at Bethel AME Church, invited the council members to attend the event, scheduled at 2 p.m. Sunday. Mrs. Young was instrumental in securing funds for Christmas lights in the community and support for the dinner was advocated by Mayor Echols to show the city's appreciation for her efforts.

Ill. Revenue Department warns against bad checks

Effective immediately, the Illinois Department of Revenue will begin making full use of the provisions of a new law which allows for arrest and prosecution of a person who submits a bad check to the department.

This new law (Public Act 82-1099) states that any person who issues a check for tax due with the "intent to defraud" (that is, a check which he knows will not be paid by the depository) can be convicted of committing a deceptive practice, a Class A misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment of up to one year and a fine not to exceed $1,000.

A person convicted a second or subsequent time will be guilty of a Class 4 felony, punishable by imprisonment of one to three years and a fine of up to $10,000.

Failure to have sufficient funds with the depository on which the check is written may be prima facie evidence of an "intent to defraud," according to J. Thomas Johnson, director of revenue.

The chorale, under the direction of Leonard Van Camp, professor of music, has prepared a concert of both sacred and secular music from Europe and America.

Three Italian Renaissance motets by Clemens, Nanino and Monteverdi will open the program. Next, the chorale will pay homage to the 150th anniversary of the birth of Johannes Brahms by performing "Six Folk Songs" in English translation. Then, the audience is invited to join the chorale in performing two well-known choruses from Handel's "Messiah, And the Glory of the Lord" and "Hallelujah." Organist Jan Hoyer will accompany.

Spartans eliminate Warriors from contention

In Quarterfinal Action

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

ST. CHARLES — Granite City High School's soccer team may now have a little compassion for its near rival Collinsville.

Last Tuesday evening, the Warriors defeated the Kahoks 1-0 in sudden death penalty kicks to win the Edwardsville Sectional and advance to the state tournament. Friday, in the quarter-final round of the Illinois state soccer championships, the Warriors were the victims of the overtime penalty kick.

After regulation play, two five-minute overtimes and two five-minute sudden death overtime periods, the Glenbrook North Spartans defeated the Warriors 1-0 on a

It may have been the Spartan's defense which kept Granite City from scoring, but as the minutes waned in the fourth quarter, it was the Northbrook offense which sent Granite City reeling.

At 88:29, Glenbrook's John Caparos threatened. Caparos moved along the near sideline before slapping a shot at the Warrior goal. The shot sailed just wide to the right.

The Warriors took possession, but couldn't penetrate Northbrook's defense. For three minutes play stalled at midfield before the Warriors managed to penetrate the Spartan defense.

At 71:35 the Warriors got perhaps their best scoring opportunity of the afternoon. Nathan Crane tapped a pass off to Matt Sheridan. Sheridan fateful penalty decision.

"It's an extremely exciting experience when you win, but it's terribly traumatic when you lose."

If there is any consolation for the Warriors in their loss, it would be that the Spartans went on to decisively win the 12th Annual State Soccer Tournament (see related story). No team in the tournament came closer to defeating Northbrook than Granite City.

"The game with Granite City was by far our toughest game of the tournament and you can underline that 10 times," said Spartan Coach Mike Radakovich after winning the state championship Sunday.

"To beat Granite City and Gene Baker is the biggest thrill of my coaching career. I admire Granite City athletes. They play the same kind of soccer — intelligent and modern — that I'm trying to teach here. Just to be on the same field with them is a big honor," Radakovich said.

Friday's quarterfinal game with the Spartans was an ebb and flow contest for both teams before Glenbrook North eventually emerged victorious on the penalty kicks.

Through the first quarter, the Warriors peeked at the Spartan defense, outshooting Glenbrook 4-3. In the second quarter, the Spartans rallied to better the Warriors' attack, outshooting Granite City 3-1.

In the second half, the Warriors stymied the Spartan offense, outshooting them 6-2. Despite the Warrior domination in the shot category, Glenbrook's defense managed to keep the Warriors off balance just enough to keep them from scoring.

Part of the reason for Granite City's improved play in the second half was the repositioning of back Matt Sheridan up to midfield, leaving Dave Baggett, Sam Tate, Dennis Gaudreault and Brent Cook in the backfield. It was the second time in a week that Sheridan had been repositioned in the Warrior offense in an effort to intensify the Warrior attack. The senior back was also moved up last Tuesday against Collinsville.

With the adjustment, it became Granite City's offense against the proven Spartan defense. The result was a draw through 90 minutes of soccer.

"Defense is our game," said Mike Radakovich, the Spartan coach. "I think we have a phenomenal defense and we proved that tonight against a fine Granite City team."

Against Streator

Warriors end season with a victory

STREATOR — It's amazing how one play can turn a football game around.

Streator scored a first quarter touchdown against Granite City High School Saturday in a non-conference game in Streator, and the two teams played a physical, scoreless game for the next two quarters.

One mistake turned the game in Granite City's favor. The Warrior defense forced the Streator punter to step out of the end zone for a safety. Granite City took the next possession in for a touchdown and went on to a 9-0 victory in the season ending game for both teams.

Granite City closed the season with a 3-5 record while Streator ended up at 1-7. Streator is a member of the North Central Illinois Conference.

Although winning only three games was somewhat of a disappointment for the Warriors, Granite City Coach Tom Wyrostek looked at the 1983 season as an im-provedment.

"As far as the overall football program goes, it was an improvement. It was a definite improvement for one school, South, but it wasn't if you look at the North program. And the system's overall 9-11-2 record was the best we've had in a long time," Wyrostek said.

"We weren't completely happy about the season. We hoped we could have done a few more things than we did. Shane did an excellent job at quarterback, but we have to beat them off the ball at the line a little bit better, and we have to have more of a running game next year," he added.

Once again, it was the passing game that gave Granite City the victory. The safety forced Streator to attempt a free kick from the 29-yard line. The Warriors used a series of short passing plays to set up the touchdown.

The scoring play was also intended to be a short slant-in pattern. Tight end Eric Graves made a good catch on the play and turned it into a 25-yard touchdown. Graves kicked the all-important extra point to give Granite City the win.

"We've got to be pleased about this one. Even though we gave Streator some opportunities to win, we stopped them," Wyrostek said.

It was a tough, physical game for both teams. You had to be a man to stand out there. It seemed that we were complacent for a while, but when it got physical, it seemed to rise up a little," he said.

Streator's first quarter touchdown was set up on a Granite City fumble following the kickoff. Streator began on its 29-yard line and moved the ball down to the Warriors' eight-yard line. A sack forced put Streator in a fourth-and-12 situation.

Streator quarterback Mike Freehill fired a short screen pass to receiver Tim Lewis, and Streator proceeded to score on a 25-yard touchdown. Graves kicked the all-important extra point to give Granite City the win.

"We've got to be pleased about this one. Even though we gave Streator some opportunities to win, we stopped them," Wyrostek said.

"We were not completely happy about the season. We hoped we could have done a few more things than we did. Shane did an excellent job at quarterback, but we have to beat them off the ball at the line a little bit better, and we have to have more of a running game next year," he added.

Once again, it was the passing game that gave Granite City the victory. The safety forced Streator to attempt a free kick from the 29-yard line. The Warriors used a series of short passing plays to set up the touchdown.

The scoring play was also intended to be a short slant-in pattern. Tight end Eric Graves made a good catch on the play and turned it into a 25-yard touchdown. Graves kicked the all-important extra point to give Granite City the win.

"We've got to be pleased about this one. Even though we gave Streator some opportunities to win, we stopped them," Wyrostek said.

SACKED SPARTAN. Warrior Scott Grote dribbles around a fallen Spartan defender during Friday's quarterfinal game of the Illinois State High School State soccer tournament in St. Charles.

In the final sudden death overtime period, the Warriors slowed the pace of the game, trying to take the momentum away from surging Northbrook. The result was a shotless period for both teams and a pending penalty kick pageant.

Granite City seemed confident at first at the penalty mark. They had every reason to be after Tuesday's victory over Collinsville. But somewhere between Edwardsville and St. Charles last week the Warriors lost that confidence at the penalty mark.

The result was a Warrior loss. For Northbrook, Laci Ball scored. Metzger scored. Jim Goeller scored. Only Mike Fahey did not and that was because Blasingame made a terrific save on two attempts.

For Granite City, Scott Blasingame scored. On Saturday not only did the Warriors have to battle Northbrook, but they had to contend with those haunting goal uprights and crossbar.

Crane's shot, to the left, hit the upright and deflected away.

Sheridan's shot hit the cross bar, sailed straight up and came down right in front of him.

Moore's shot, the second taken by the Warriors, was cleanly saved by Blasingame, who was later named the state tournament's goalie.

The Spartans, in their third state appearance, were victorious.

They leaped. They screamed. They shouted. Their fans poured out onto the field, much like the Warriors did just three days before after beating Collinsville.

"It's an extremely exciting experience when you win, but it's terribly traumatic when you lose," said Warrior Coach Gene Baker of the penalty kicks after the game.

"We came out on the short end this time. I give Glenbrook North a lot of credit. I couldn't be more proud of these kids. They came back against adversity. We'll be back."

The Warriors will lose the services of seven of its athletes this year to graduation. But of those underclassmen who saw varsity action this season, 17 will be returning next year.

And says Baker, "Our freshmen class is perhaps the best bunch of kids we've had come along in some time."

NOTES: Granite City battled Northbrook without the services of junior back Mike Houston. Houston severely sprained his right ankle during the Collinsville game last Tuesday. Also, Crane who was not sidelined, was battling a cold. Haig Nighohossian of Granite City was one of nine referees throughout the state chosen by the IHSSA to officiate the state tournament.

Pursuing Grote is Glenbrook's Mike Fahey. Glenbrook defeated the Granite City in penalty kicks to eliminate the Warriors from contention.

Spartans go on to win state tourney

"If it can't be us, then we wish Mike Radakovich and his Glenbrook Spartans the best of luck in the tournament," said Warrior Coach Gene Baker after Granite City's 1-0 loss to the Spartans Friday afternoon.

The luck of the Warriors must've been through the third quarter — about 50 minutes into the contest — when Brian McEwen took John Caparos' direct kick and slapped it past Wheaton's goalkeeper Don Sender.

The Spartans picked up an insurance goal five minutes into the fourth quarter — at the 85 minute mark — when Spartan forward David Miller took the sideline throw-in from Jim Metzger and slapped it past Sender.

Glenbrook outshot Wheaton 17-12 in the contest while the Spartans monopolized on corner kicks 4-0.

In semifinal action in the lower bracket, Wheaton emerged victorious with a 3-2 win over Downers Grove, setting up the state tournament finale.

In the championship game, Northbrook took the lead midway through the third quarter — about 50 minutes into the contest — when Brian McEwen took John Caparos' direct kick and slapped it past Sender.

The Spartans picked up an insurance goal five minutes into the fourth quarter — at the 85 minute mark — when Spartan forward David Miller took the sideline throw-in from Jim Metzger and slapped it past Sender.

Glenbrook outshot Wheaton 17-12 in the contest while the Spartans monopolized on corner kicks 4-0.

"Right now, I'm feeling great," said Spartan Coach Mike Radakovich. "This is something I'll be able to cherish later when things aren't going so well for us."

Radakovich said it was his past experience in state tournament play which helped him and his team succeed last weekend.

"In the past, I felt lucky just to be in the state tournament," Radakovich said. In 1980 the Spartans lost in the semis to Hinsdale South and in 1981 the Spartans lost in the championship game to Collinsville.

"I approached this tournament and the championship game with a different attitude. I went in there thinking we were going to win it. I guess the third time really is a charm."

Named To All Tourney Team

IHSSCA names Sheridan All-American

ST. CHARLES — The Granite City High School soccer team may have fallen short of its goal of capturing another Illinois state championship, but if there's any consolation, it's that one member of the squad has received recognition by other coaches throughout the state.

Matt Sheridan, 17, a senior back for the Warriors has been named to the Edwardsville All-Sectional team, the All-State Tourney team and the All-Midwest Soccer High School Soccer Team.

Being named to the All-Sectional and All-State Tourney team are huge honors, but being named to the All-Midwest squad automatically gives Sheridan an All-American status, according to the Illinois High School Soccer Coaches Association.

The IHSSCA released the results of its annual poll Saturday following the championship game.

Sheridan was the top vote getter in all high school athletes, including those of state champions Glenbrook North.

"Matt's a real class person and athlete," Warrior Coach Gene Baker began. "He's one of the many athletes with whom I've had the privilege to coach and come to know."

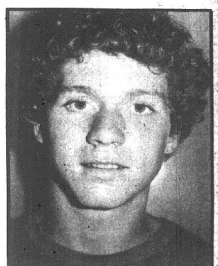

"In addition to being a top athlete, he's among the top students in his class. He's managed to excel academically in light of the tough, demanding schedule we require of our athletes," Baker said. "He definitely belongs among the elite of our school."

"As a team captain, he's done everything we've asked of him and even more," Baker said. "He's done everything for us but cut the grass."

Also selected as an All-American by the IHSSCA is Eric Quinzinski, a senior forward of Hersey High School. They are the only two Illinois receiving that honor this year by the IHSSCA.

Teammate Nathan Crane joined Sheridan on the All-Sectional Team.

After Springfield Sectional

Robertson, Warrior girls continue to state

By MICHAEL BARTELS

SPRINGFIELD—It is a time to test men's, and women's, souls. This time of year for the cross country runner is a time for personal bests.

Saturday afternoon at the Springfield Cross Country Sectional it was that kind of day. After the race, several runners removed their shoes to see their bloody feet and a Springfield Lapham runner lie motionless for more than an hour on the sidelines from having "cooled down" too fast.

For Granite City, the event of the day was the qualification of the girls team for the state meet next Saturday in Peoria.

The disappointment of the day was in the failure of the boys' team to qualify for the meet.

The girls qualified for state by finishing third in the 18-team meet. East St. Louis Lincoln continued to look good, scoring only 95 points in the meet and Charleston finished a close second with 95 points. Granite City finished third with 138 points.

Sophomore Lora Wiser again led the girls, finishing fifth out of the more than 140 girls entered. The winner of the race was Bloomington's Melissa Straza, who also finished second in the state last season. Wiser was 11 seconds off of the winning time of 11:15.

Michelle Shoemaker finished 24th in the race and 16th among the team runners.

Ninth-grader Shiela Noel has also been coming around lately, finishing in 44th place.

In the boys' race, the news was not as good, as the unpredictability of the sport of cross country again made itself known.

But Jim Robertson established himself as one of the better hills runners in the state, finishing second behind Dave Egan of Chatham-Glenwood with a time of 15:04.

The course record for the Lincoln Park course is 14:52.

In the last couple of weeks, Robertson has been running very well. Four weeks ago at the Jacksonville, Ill. Invitational, Robertson took the medal in a blistering pace of 14:33, only one second off the time set by college All-American and Granite Cityan Mike Baker six years ago.

"I think he (Robertson) got confident a while back," said coach Pete Robinson. "He is in a real good frame of mind. That's really important. We're expecting some really big things out of Jimmy. I think he is able to do it."

But even though Robertson ran his best race on hills of the year, and finished second only to the third-place finisher in state a year ago, the team finish was entirely a different story.

Last week illness hit a couple of the runners: Todd Isom and Jeff Hoes. Saturday, Isom appeared to have recovered but Hoes' time suggested he may not have been quite up to par.

Robertson thought the kids ran a heck of a race, but the finish of his number two runner hurt.

"All the rest of the kids ran as good as they could. Keith Bono did a heck of a job (39th team places). If Jeff (Hoes) had run the course in the same time he did earlier in the year, we would have finished 17 places higher. We would have gone (to state)."

I was real disappointed the boys didn't make it," Robertson continued. "I thought in my heart we could run with most of the teams that finished ahead of us. They worked hard last week. They deserved a better fate than what happened to them."

But Robinson said you have to take the good with the bad. Though the boys' team didn't qualify, he felt the hard work was worth it.

Keith Bono, in one of his better performances of the year, turned in a time of 16:19, with Ken Kalka (16:25) and Darren Bernaux (16:30) not far behind. Todd Isom finished in 16:52, to place as number five man for the Warriors.

Now the girls' team as well as Jim Robertson will travel to Peoria Saturday for the state meet. The Press-Record will preview the meet in Thursday's issue.

SIUE ends season with pair of wins

By AL BARNES

EDWARDSVILLE—The soccer team of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville closed out its regular season here Sunday afternoon by defeating a stubbornly playing University of Creighton (Omaha, Neb.), 4-1, Friday night, SIUE beat the U.S. Air Force Academy, 3-2, at Cougar Field.

The victory gave Coach Bob Guelker's SIUE Cougars their worst record, 8-6-2 since the veteran team first inaugurated soccer at the SIUE campus in 1967. The Blue Jays finished 8-7-1.

The triumph, however, kept alive the Cougars' hopes for an "at-large" post-season NCAA division I tournament bid; almost 500 schools to get bids will be St. Louis, Illinois and Eastern Illinois U.'s high-flying Panthers. If the Cougars do get a bid, they'll know a week from Sunday; if they do, they'll play their first game Wednesday, November 16th, probably against St. Louis U. There were many things to lift Cougar fans' hopes for the future in SIUE's victory over Creighton. They didn't lose their "cool" when Creighton's Blue Jays were giving them fits in the first half and, most importantly, for the future, was the sensational play of Granite City's own Steve Trittschuh, who again started on defense for the Cougars.

It was a pass from Trittschuh which set up the Cougars' first goal (by Dan Malloy) after 19:00 minutes of play and another brilliant feed-pass of his to Steve Gauvain at 64:08.

SIUE's other scoring: Steve Schell made it 2-0 on an assist from Greg Fleher at 55:09; after Bob Addition beat the Cougars' keeper, Dave Capetta, at 58:41 to cut the SIUE lead to 2-1, SIUE quickly scored a pair of goals within two minutes to slam the door in Creighton's face, one by Steve Gauvain (assist from Trittschuh) at 64:08 and the final goal coming on a direct penalty kick by Gauvain at 68:15.

Oddly enough, the game's stats were equal on shots-on-goals, 16- and 16; a measure of the Cougars' superiority was SIUE's domination in corner kicks: 12 to 0.

At the half, six SIUE seniors were honored: defender Greg Fleher; midfielders Mike Gauvain and Steve Gauvain, cousins; forwards Dan O'Keefe and Steve Schell, and defender Matt Tracy.

Also honored at the half was Bill Guelker, father of Coach Bob. Mr. Guelker has been a fixture in the press-box keeping the time clock during the Cougars' games since 1968.

The 80-plus Guelker, who is still very active and one of the better poolplayers in all St. Louis, sadly said: "This will be my last year." He explained, privately, that an accident to his wife would keep him from continuing to take part in Cougar soccer games. The honoring of Mr. Guelker was the brainchild of SIUE's Sports Information Director, Steve Weller, who presented the honor with a plaque.

Without a question, Trittschuh's overall play has effectively put to rest, adjutively, the doubts expressed frequently by St. Louis soccer fans that a Illinois prep player can't possibly play with the Missouri team.

Trittschuh's play all season has been outstanding and he, very definitely, should have a brilliant collegiate career with the Cougars and will, no doubt of it now, be the first of a long list of Illinois prep kickers to "make it" at SIUE.

SIUE's other scoring: Steve Schell made it 2-0 on an assist from Greg Fleher at 55:09; after Bob Addition beat the Cougars' keeper, Dave Capetta, at 58:41 to cut the SIUE lead to 2-1, SIUE quickly scored a pair of goals within two minutes to slam the door in Creighton's face, one by Steve Gauvain (assist from Trittschuh) at 64:08 and the final goal coming on a direct penalty kick by Gauvain at 68:15.

Oddly enough, the game's stats were equal on shots-on-goals, 16- and 16; a measure of the Cougars' superiority was SIUE's domination in corner kicks: 12 to 0.

Injury sidelines GC Air Force cadet

By ROGER KRAMER

Brian Pickens was a defensive back for the Granite City North soccer team and was named to the Illinois Select Team in 1982.

It was no wonder that Pickens would find himself in the starting line-up last year as a freshman for the Air Force Academy soccer team. Pickens' expected to start three more seasons for the Falcons.

However, fate intervened. After starting the first two games for the Falcons, Pickens fell during a practice session Sept. 7 and bent his right wrist to a break in the fall. Another Air Force player fell on him, and Pickens broke his wrist.

Since then, Pickens has not played for the Air Force. From the bench, Pickens has seen his teammates battle to a 11-4-2 record this season and a third place ranking in the Midwest Region soccer rankings. Only Eastern Illinois and St. Louis were ahead of the Air Force last week.

Pickens has given moral support to his teammates throughout the season and has practiced lightly since he was injured. A more important goal for Pickens — becoming a pilot for the Air Force — kept him out of action this season.

"I could have played later this season, but I didn't want to fail my pilot's qualifying examination my senior year," Pickens said. "If I would have reinjured the hand, there would have been a good chance I would fall the physical because of it and I couldn't become a pilot."

"My coach (Luis Sagastume) understands why I did it, and he knows that it's more important for me to become a pilot. I'll be able to play next season, and I hope I can help the team out," Pickens said.

Despite Pickens' moral support, the Air Force's chances of making the NCAA soccer tournament may have been snuffed out Friday with a 3-2 loss to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Friday, the fourth ranked team in the region. The chances of either team making the tournament are very slim.

Pickens believes the reason why Air Force, a team consisted entirely of Americans, has come as far as it has is because of its toughness.

"We have a lot of toughness, and we have a lot of goals," Pickens said. "We have fun together, we live together, we party together, and we all hustle hard."

Pickens credited his high school coach, Bob Kehoe, and Ruben Mendez for making the adjustment to college soccer easy. Pickens has applied what he learned in Granite and what he is learning now to improve his skills.

took the lead, John Keely caught Freehill's pass for the conversion.

"It was the defense that did the job for us," Wyrostek said. "We only had one breakdown, and that is when they scored."

Other than that, the defense rose to the occasion. The Warriors lost a fumble on their own 12-yard line, but the defense prevented Streator from crossing the goal line.

"The main thing is trying to instill the confidence in the boys that they can win. One win may be a fluke, two wins may be a fluke, but three may not be. They found out victories don't come easy this year," Wyrostek said.

Next season, the Warriors begin play in the Southwestern Conference, which includes East St. Louis, both Belleville East and West, Alton and Collinsville.

Madison did not play in the final week of the season. The Trojans finished with a 3-5 record this year, the best record in some time for that school.

Bucks end Stars season; win 4-0

By ROGER KRAMER

GODFREY—Granite City Center had very little to lose Saturday in the championship game of the NJCAA Region 24 playoffs.

The Stars' opponents in the game, Lewis and Clark Community College of Godfrey, was the runner-up in the NJCAA championship game last year. In two previous meetings this season, the Bucks defeated GCC 7-0 and 3-0.

The Stars played like a top-ranked team for nearly one half. They tackled as well as the Bucks, they passed as well as the Bucks and they shot as well as the Bucks in the first half.

However, the Stars couldn't keep up the pace forever, and the Bucks did LCCC's superior skills led the Bucks to a 4-0 and a berth in the NJCAA inter-regional tournament at Triton College later this week.

Granite City Center finished the year with a 12-9 record.

"They had nothing to lose," LCCC Coach Ed Huneke said. "So we let them go with reckless abandon for a while. We knew it would be hard for them to keep playing at that intensity for more than the first 20 minutes. We knew if we could hold them early, that would be a crucial part of the game."

GCC played as the Bucks' equals for the first half, and took five shots on goal, and GCC took four shots. Both GCC goalkeeper Joe Lemaster and LCCC goalkeeper

John Stahl made four saves.

It was the one shot Lemaster couldn't make a save on that gave the momentum to the Bucks.

Scott Skirvan, a forward for the Bucks, drove down the left side and forced Lemaster to position himself towards the right goal post. Instead of shooting, Skirvan passed to midfielder Matt Massa, a sophomore out of Collinsville, who fired the ball to the left for the goal.

The goal came with 2:26 left in the first half, and that couldn't have been any better for the Bucks.

"That goal was a crucial goal for us and a well-timed one right before the end of the half," Huneke said. "We wanted to have a nice little lead going into halftime to give us a psychological edge. If it would have been tied, they would have had the edge because they would have kept us scoreless the first half."

Thing stopped going Granite City's way in the second half. At 51:44, Skirvan scored on a pass from Steve Stocker, and at 59:35, Bill Becher, a LCCC midfielder, scored on a shot from 15 yards out. Don Gemmell picked up the assist.

The second goal put the game out of Granite City's reach, according Huneke.

"Whoever scored the next goal would have the edge. If they would have had the goal, it would have been tied, and they would have more incentive. If we got it, I thought we'd be able to score a couple of more goals.

The Bucks did. Becher scored one more goal for good measure with 14:32 left in the game. Massa's hard, point-blank shot at the goal was deflected away by Lemaster. Despite the deflection, it pulled Lemaster away from goal, giving Becher a clear shot from the left of the goal.

Despite the loss, GCC Coach Larry Petri noticed marked improvement in the Stars between the first game, the 7-0 loss to the Bucks, and the final game.

"The game might have been 4-0, but to us, it was really 1-0. The other three goals didn't matter that much. We had plenty of opportunities, but we couldn't score," Petri said.

For instance, Benny Nolan took two hard shots at goal, one in each half. Against a weaker goalkeeper, both would have been goals. Instead, Stahl made both saves, and the Stars left empty.

"Our defense was superb," Huneke said. "John once again played an errorless game."

The Stars took nine shots on goal during the game. Stahl saved eight, and a defender made the other when Stahl was drawn for an earlier save.

"We came out playing strong the first half, and the opportunities were there for game of the year. The scoreboard early if we were to win. We made some good chances, but we couldn't finish them up," Petri said.

Burnett: The Aces' ace in the hole

University of Evansville senior Jack Burnett is a prime example of success breeding success.

Burnett, a 1980 graduate of Granite City South High School, played on four consecutive state championship teams. In fact, he was the team's most valuable player his senior year.

"Our high school coach (Gene Baker) told us to look around and be aware of how lucky we were," Burnett said. "I'm really glad he did."

Now Burnett's success comes at Evansville. A starting back for Evansville since his freshman season, Burnett has seen the Aces' soccer program grow. Last season, the Aces earned a trip to the NCAA tournament.

Although the Aces are 10-5-3 after losing to Indiana University 2-1 in overtime last week, the Aces still have a chance to reach the NCAA tournament this year. Early season losses to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, George Mason, Nevada-Las Vegas, and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee helped make the Aces' playoff chances more difficult.

"I was enthused," Burnett said about Evansville's pre-season prospects. "I heard we got in good freshmen and I was ready to play. It was frustrating when the team started to do badly. We knew we were good and the seniors could tell the younger players had to find out how good we were. It showed when we played the tough teams like Akron because we started reaching our potential."

While at South, Burnett fell on the basketball court and injured his knee enough to require surgery. After his freshman season, Burnett had a second knee operation. Burnett allowed himself a long recuperation period following the second operation than the first and notices little discomfort now.

"I think the knee surgery has helped him," Evansville Coach Fred Schmalz said. "Before the surgery, the knee slowed up Jack. He was aware of its stress and he was always having to ice it. Now he has more mobility, speed and confidence."

Burnett, a co-captain, is a 6-1, 170-pound right back who has become a mainstay for the Aces defensively. He's also a computer science major, and juggling the time needed for athletics and academics is a challenge that Burnett has learned to live with.

"If it wasn't fun, I couldn't keep going," he said. "Sometimes I go to practice right from studying and I'm in sort of a daze. Really, the season goes by so fast I don't have time to worry about it."

But Burnett's main concern now is leading Evansville to another NCAA berth, a difficult task for the Aces in the tough Midwest-Great Lakes Region of the NCAA.

Stars lose in playoffs

The Granite City Center Stars volleyball team finished their season Tuesday night with a hard-fought loss to Belleville Area College.

The Stars lost the first two games rather quickly 15-1, 15-2. In the third game Granite City gave Belleville a much longer time.

"The girls were really apprehensive about playing someone so skilled," stated Coach Clabbe Briggs.

"I think it took two games to start playing the type game we were used to playing," Briggs added.

In the third game the Stars played much better. The lead seemed throughout the beginning of the game. The Stars pulled to a 9-9 tie before missed serves gave the ball to BAC, which served straight points to take the game 15-9.

Despite the loss Coach Briggs was pleased with her team's performance throughout the season.

"I felt the season was a very good experience for the girls, myself, and for the Granite City Center," stated Briggs. "The girls really improved with the season."

Next year Coach Briggs feels her team will be better because of improved competition and recruiting.

Linhart leads

WIU gridders

John Linhart, a 1983 graduate of Granite City High School South now attending the Western Illinois University, is performing well on the gridiron.

In the junior varsity Leatherneck final football game of the season, Linhart led the Leathernecks with 41 yards passing, while completing four of eight pass attempts in the second half. Linhart, who was the Leatherneck signal caller last year, also added 14 yards rushing on four carries.

Linhart's efforts boosted the Leathernecks to a 19-0 shutout of Augustana College. The victory ended the Leatherneck's season on a positive note at 3-1.

Jeffries leads Gville servers

Susan Jeffries, a 1981 graduate of Granite City South High School, is leading Greenville College's volleyball team in serving efficiency this season.

Jeffries, a junior for the Lady Panthers, is leading the team with 98 percent serving efficiency. Her accurate serving has helped Greenville accumulate a 24-9 record prior to the NCAA District 20 tournament.

Collins picked as Coach of Year candidate

Gary Collins, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's head baseball coach, is one of six candidates for the American Baseball Coaches Association's NCAA Division II Coach of the Year.

Collins, who led the 1983 Cougars to a 35-15 record, capped his fifth year at SIUE by winning the NCAA-II Midwest Regional championship and finishing fourth in the NCAA-II College World Series. He was also selected as the NCAA-II Midwest Coach of the Year.

Winners of all three NCAA division awards will be announced at the ABCA's convention Jan. 4, 1984, in Dallas.

Collins' record at SIUE is 143-166, and his teams have won over 30 games in the last three seasons.

Floor hockey begins at YMCA

Boys between the ages 7 and 12 may sign up at the Tri-City Area YMCA for the upcoming floor hockey program.

Practice starts the week of Nov. 5. There will be two leagues, one for ages 7 through 9 and the other for ages 10 through 12.

Indoor floor hockey is played similar to ice hockey, but the sticks and pucks are made of plastic to insure maximum safety. No physical contact is permitted.

The YMCA is looking for adult volunteer coaches to supervise this program. For more information, persons should contact the "Y" at 876-7200.

Don Stucke (left) accepts the 52 sweaters at last week's board meeting. Black with red trim, the crew-neck sweaters will be worn by GCHS varsity team members. Linder praised "GC" school boards and administrations throughout the years as doing their best to serve the needs of local children. He recalled his Granite City school days and made the presentation in memory of his relatives who attended local schools, his school friends, and the school district's accomplishments, including scholarship, sportsmanship and the ideals and values instilled in students.

Regulations on burning leaves

The Granite City Fire Department is reminding city residents that leaves may legally be burned in the city, but only from sunrise to sunset and not on asphalt streets. Leaf fires should be supervised until completely out.

Firefighters have answered some calls recently where youths have spread the burning leaves and started bushes on fire.

There also have been disagreements with some residents who feel the state permission to burn leaves also applies to brush and paper. "The state law says only leaves may be burned and then only from sunrise to sunset," a spokesman said.

The ban on burning brush does not pertain to recreational or cooking fires.

President
GRANITE CITY TRUST

Q: The bank sends a statement to the Internal Revenue Service reporting all the interest or dividends I've received from my accounts. My question is, what does the Internal Revenue Service do with this information?

A: The Internal Revenue Service does receive the same dividend information which you receive on 1099 forms. The IRS feeds this information into its computers. This stored information is then matched with the information submitted by taxpayers on their individual tax returns. When the computer catches a "mismatch"—a situation where what the bank reported and what the taxpayer said he received don't exactly correspond, the computer "kicks" the return out. The taxpayer is then sent a notice by the IRS, asking them to explain the difference in reporting, or to pay the additional tax. In such an event, it always pays to play fair with the Internal Revenue Service, and to report all dividend income. If, of course, you believe there is an error on the statement you receive from your bank, you should contact your banker immediately.

Free diabetes tests at SEMC

As part of National Diabetes Month, St. Elizabeth Medical Center and the Greater St. Louis Affiliate of the American Diabetes Association is offering free diabetes screening tests to community residents from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 11. The screening will take place in the Wiesman room located on the first floor of the hospital.

Diabetes now is the nation's third leading cause of death by disease and the number one cause of new blindness. People at greatest risk of developing diabetes are usually overweight, over 35 years of age and have blood relatives with the disease.

For an accurate test, a person must have eaten at least 100 grams of carbohydrates two hours prior to the test. They should not eat or drink anything else, except water, in the two-hour period preceding the test.

The following are suggested menus containing at least 100 grams of carbohydrate. Those being tested must eat everything on the menu they choose.

A breakfast menu would consist of fruit (banana, canned fruit or a large glass of fruit juice), one cup of cereal (cooked or dry), one-half cup of milk, two teaspoons sugar, two pieces of toast or bread, one teaspoon of jelly or jam, coffee or tea (cream and sugar if desired).

One lunch menu could be vegetable or cream soup, five crackers, meat or cheese sandwich (with two slices of bread), dessert (cake, pie, pudding, etc.), one cup of milk.

An alternate lunch menu would consist of a hamburger and bun, french fries or one bag of potato chips, and a large glass of soda (not diet).

Other meal plans, the carbohydrate values of many common foods and pre-test information may be obtained by calling St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 786-3144, or the Diabetes Association at 1-314-969-3196. Known diabetics, including borderline cases, will not be tested.

All entries must be postmarked no later than March 1, 1984, and sent to: George Dodd, 2021 Marlas Drive, Hazelwood, Mo. 63042.

The amount of these awards are a $100 bond for first place, a $75 bond for second place, and a $50 for third place. SIUC programs come to St. Louis area

Prospective Southern Illinois University-Carbondale students in the St. Louis Metropolitan Area have the chance to learn about SIUC without leaving the area. A series of programs designed to inform prospective students about SIUC's admission standards, housing and financial aid opportunities has been scheduled this semester and next in the three cities. In some cases, students will be allowed to register on the spot.

SIUC, nestled at the edge of the Illinois Ozarks, occupies a 900-acre central campus that is naturally landscaped by hundreds of tree and plant species and surrounds a 60-acre lake and nature preserve. Carbondale lies 100 miles southeast of St. Louis, 330 miles south of Chicago and 60 miles north of the Ohio-Mississippi River confluence.

Regarded as one of Illinois' two comprehensive public universities (the other is the University of Illinois), SIUC offers academic work at levels from the associate degree to the doctorate, as well as medical and law degree programs. More than 60 academic programs lead to a master's degree; 23 to the doctorate.

The School of Medicine's main clinical campus in Springfield is linked with St. John's and Memorial hospitals. A campus next to Crab Orchard Lake 10 miles east of Carbondale houses some of SIUC's technical careers programs. Southern Illinois Airport near Carbondale is the setting for SIUC's aviation technologies labs, while farmhouses flanking the main campus and in other parts of deep downstate Illinois are staffed as agriculture and forestry research stations. One of the state's premiere centers for environmental education and outdoor learning is SIUC's 3,100-acre Touch of Nature camp complex at Little Grassy Lake.

The off-campus programs are designed as "mini open houses," said Deborah K. Perry, field representative for the Office of Admissions and Records.

SIUC representatives will be at the Ramada Inn Westport, 12031 Lackland Road, St. Louis, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 3. The second program will be from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Dec. 4 at the Ramada Inn at Interstate 64 and Illinois 159, Fairview Heights, Ill.

Three on-campus open houses for prospective students have been scheduled for 1984. Faculty representatives from every academic unit will be on hand to answer students' questions at the SIUC Student Center Ballrooms, Feb. 4, March 31 and July 27.

SIUE art exhibit continues

An "International Maze," exhibits, entertainment and cuisine are a part of the International Festival in the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, today and will be featured again tomorrow. The International Maze, a walk-through exhibit of art and culture from China, Great Britain, Japan, Germany and other countries and Quebec, will be located near the north wall of the Goshen Lounge from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Viktor Zsostale, an artist from Poland, will display his work and will be on hand Monday to answer questions, and a display of United Nations stamps will be exhibited. In addition, 18 works of the late Morris Cornelius Escher, a painter from the Netherlands, will be on display.

Twenty-three color panels depicting crafts such as stone cutting, organ building, glass blowing and weaving will also be exhibited in the International Maze. The panels are on loan from the French Cultural Services in New York City. Crafts from the Venezuelan Consulate in Chicago will also be displayed.

More exhibits will be located near the south wall of the Goshen Lounge. Hand-made, hand-painted dolls from the National Lithuanian Society of America, Inc. of Collinsville will be displayed. Other countries represented in the exhibits will be Korea, Pakistan, India and Malaysia.

Exhibits on Christianity throughout the World, the Moslem culture and the International Hospitality Program (IHP) will be displayed. Persons interested in hosting a foreign student may get information at the IHP booth.

Entertainment for the two days will include Russian and Ukrainian dances performed by the St. Louis Country Day School Folk Dancers today at noon. Tomorrow, Terra Nova, a band from Ireland, will perform Irish folk songs from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. in the Goshen Lounge.

In the evening tomorrow, five groups will perform dances from different countries. Included in the evening's entertainment, which begins at 8 p.m., are performances of Lithuanian folk dances by the Community Civic Ballet Company of Caseyville; Mexican folk dances by the Belleville East High School

Spanish Club and the Ballet Folklorica Azteca of Granite City; Egyptian and Arabic cabaret dancing by Dahia of St. Louis; and Indian singing and dancing by Miles Group, Inc.

Food Services at the University also will help celebrate the International Festival. Foreign food specialties will be available both days at the University Club and the University Center cafeteria.

The International Festival is sponsored by the SIUE Student Program Board (SPB) and SIUE international students. For more information about the festival, interested persons may contact the SPB at 1-692-2617.

SIUE schedules 6 shows

The theater and dance department of the School of Fine Arts and Communications at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has scheduled six major productions for the 1983-84 season. Season subscriptions are available at a discount: adults, $23; senior citizens, Friends of the Theater, and students from other schools, $20; and SIUE students, faculty, staff and alumni, $18.

The season opened Nov. 3-6 with William Shakespeare's classic comedy, "Twelfth Night." Lynn F. Kluth, professor of theater and dance, called it a "light-hearted romance, filled with love, song and wit — vintage Shakespeare which has delighted three centuries of audiences."

Samuel Beckett's modern classic, "Endgame," is scheduled Dec. 1-4. Kluth said the drama is as timely now as when first presented in 1957. The director is David J. Sili.

"Opus '84," featuring original work of choreography and dance students at SIUE, will be performed Feb. 2-4.

August Strindberg's "The Stronger" and "Miss Julie" will be performed Feb. 23-26. The play features women dealing with the problems of sex, identity honor and competition, problems as pertinent today as they were 100 years ago.

The dance faculty's major production, "Dance: In Concert," will be performed April 12-14.

The final performance of the season will be "The Fantasticks," the longest — running off-Broadway musical in history, May 10-13. William J. Grivna, director, calls it "a musical fantasy about the innocence of young love."

Ticket reservations and additional information about season subscriptions may be obtained by contacting the SIUE department of theater and dance at 1-692-2773.

Adjoining Friday until Jan. 11, Illinois lawmakers voted $1.6 million aid to Downstate transit systems. State and local governments will be required to buy American-made steel for public construction projects. Courses needed for high school graduation were expanded. A consumer study and summer bond rate hikes. A $59 million plan to ease prison overcrowding was enacted. It will be a barrier for property tax fees to get their reduction proposals on the ballot.

Illinois Auditor General Robert Cronson charged Thursday that SIUE and the University of Illinois are not actively pursuing and collecting students' delinquent loans.

Wayne Reynolds, a Belleville Area College trustee, charged Friday that BAC and state Richard Hunsaker inadequately filed his economic interest statement by failing to list work for the Belleville high school district and his former Teacher Federation presidency. Hunsaker said he has made no secret of his teaching career and that it would not affect BAC's dealings with an AFT-sponsored group.

The nation's civilian unemployment dropped from 9.3 percent in September to 8.8 percent in October, the lowest in 20 months. Illinois jobless decreased from 10.1 to 9.7 percent.

Illinois traffic fatalities in October totaled 132, up 11 percent from October 1982.

The Illinois Public Health Department issued an alert Friday on Brie cheese imported from France. Sold throughout this state under the brand name, Marcellat, it may contain Listeria remaining stocks must not be sold or consumed, the state said.

DUI charge filed against motorist

Patrick L. Jateff, 20, of 3221 Bluebird Lane, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and not having a valid registration after arrested at 3:35 a.m. Sunday at Niedringhaus Avenue and Adams Street.

An officer seeing Jateff's car traveling east on Niedringhaus made a U turn and alleged the vehicle lights were extinguished as it passed the Adams Street intersection.

The driver then got out of the auto and walked toward the intersection. There were no license plates on the car, it was alleged, and a security guard said that no one was working at the plant.

The man, later identified, as Jateff, was found standing just inside the weather entranceway. He told the officer that he was waiting for a relative to come to work. The security officer advised that no one was scheduled to work at the firm until Monday and Jateff was arrested.

At police headquarters, the motorist allegedly gave money for Plaintiff's breathalyzer test and was charged. An order was issued to tow the vehicle.

Police released after posting a $302 cash bond, pending an appearance Dec. 9 in the Granite City court.

SERVE WARRANT

Charles J. Ringling, 26, of 133rd St., was arrested last week on an active warrant alleging failure to appear in court for a charge of battery. He was taken into custody after being seen on the back porch of a residence at 1400 block of N. 14th St. Kirkpatrick Homes. He was released after posting a cash bond.

Venue-bill defeat may slow courts

By SUSAN SIGNAGO-WEICH of the Press-Record

When the Illinois Senate failed to adopt new legislation Thursday in response to an Illinois Supreme Court ruling, local lawyers and judges expressed mixed reactions. The effect of the court order may be fewer personal injury lawsuits tried in Madison County.

The high court's ruling will make it easier for suits which do not pertain to people living in Madison County, or which did not occur in Madison County, to be moved to a more convenient location. Presently, many court cases which are not related to this area are tried in Madison County.

Reasons for the high amount of cases tried here include the fact that railroad and barge companies do business or use facilities in Madison County. Another factor may be the belief by some lawyers and plaintiffs that Madison County jurors awards higher settlements than jurors in other areas.

"I've heard people say that (Madison County has kinder jurors and higher settlements)," said Chief Circuit Judge Andy Mateosian. "And I'm sure there are people who believe that it is true. It could be true, but I'm not sure."

Book St. Louis women on charges

Alerted by Madison police about a truck driving over the curb onto the sidewalk in the 1400 block of Madison Avenue at 2:50 a.m. today, a Granite City officer alleged finding the vehicle, occupied by two women, stopped in the southbound traffic lanes.

Initially, Marcella A. Witthaus, 17, of St. Louis, the driver, agreed to take a breathalyzer test, but later she declined, reports said. She was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and with not having a valid driver's license.

The pickup truck was towed and a passenger, Pam Spickler of St. Louis, was taken to police headquarters to contact a friend for a ride back to Missouri.

A short time later, however, Miss Spickler was found to be Denise Lynn Gibbs, 22, of St. Louis and Poplar Bluff, Mo., who was being sought for parole violation in Missouri. She was being held today for Missouri authorities.

TO THE CITIZENS OF SCHOOL DISTRICT No. 9

The Board of Education DID NOT grant 10% raises to the administrators of the district in 1983.

Through collective bargaining negotiations the wages of all other employees of the district were held to the 1982 level.

A prior 10% cut in wages of the administration in 1983 was rescinded by the Board of Education to restore their wages to the 1982 level — the same as all other employees.

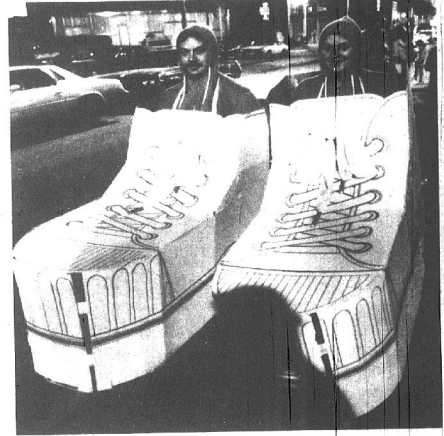

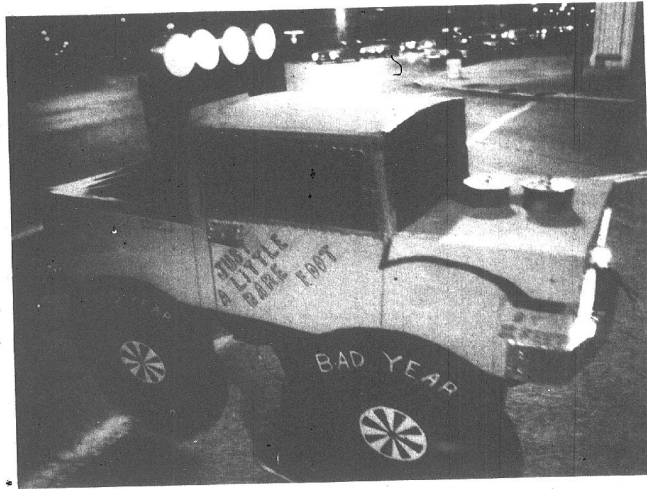

Do not be misled by others.

Halloween celebrated throughout Quad-Cities

The annual Moose Lodge Halloween Parade, photos above, attracted more than 120 costumed children and adults who competed for prizes in various categories. Among those participating in the downtown parade were "Bare Foot," left, a replica of the world's largest 4 x 4 pickup truck, "Bear Foot," complete with working lights and horn. Brother and sister, Scott Spence and Molly Johnson, dressed as giant basketball shoes, right. Some of the 125 children who participated in the annual Chouteau Township Halloween Party, far left, at the township hall included these contestants in the costume judging. From left are a hobo, a French maid, a rooster, a bee and a can of Coca-Cola. The three headed monster at left marched in the St. Mary-St. Mark School Halloween Parade through the streets of Madison. Many of the elementary schools in the area also celebrated the holiday with parades and parties and later went trick-or-treating through their neighborhoods.

Program examines effects of local factory shutdowns

The closing of a factory door is a sound that reverberates through the homes of workers, through the businesses of their community and sends tremors through the economic stability of the country as a whole. It is a sound that is heard with increasing frequency throughout this country. When a factory closes, spouse and child abuse increase. So does alcoholism, attempted suicide and the death rate among former employees.

"When a factory closes," an hour-long documentary airing Thursday, Nov. 10, at 9 p.m. on KETC-Channel 9, explores the personal costs American blue collar workers now pay because of factory closings by examining the shutdown of a single plant in Philadelphia and looking at the implications of this growing national trend. The program was produced by WITF-Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and The Center for Ethics and Social Policy of Philadelphia.

Madison County Public Aid office cited for outstanding performance

Illinois Public Aid Acting Director Carl Mankowitz, recently cited the Madison County Public Aid office for outstanding performance among offices of comparable size. Operations administrator Gail Huecker, presented the awards to the local office administrator, Ted Funkhouser, and his staff.

The Department of Public Aid's Local Office Performance Indicator (LOPI) system showed that Madison County had the second highest average score and the second highest quality assessment score among the 22 Class V offices during the fiscal year 1983. Class V offices have more than 120 staff members. Scores are based on seven different criteria, including management skills and quality timeliness of services. Quality assessment scores indicate the correctness of case records. The Madison County office served 10,626 recipients in September 1983.

The two offices in Madison County (Granite City and Alton) together comprise a Class V office. The Granite City office, on its own considered one of the 16 Class IV offices, also won a LOPI award for having the second highest quality assessment score among offices of its size. Class IV offices have between 50 and 120 staff members. The Granite City office served 9,270 recipients in September 1983.

"During the recent past, our agency has been faced with increasing caseloads and decreasing staffing levels," said Mankowitz. "The LOPI system sets forth the priorities for field staff which allows local office administrators to allocate their resources to meet the priorities of the agency. The offices strive to reach common goals within a framework of friendly competition."

HOLIDAY CARDS, GIFTS TO FIGHT DIABETES

The American Diabetes Association's Holiday Card Program is now underway. In addition to the 14 varieties of Christmas cards, area residents may purchase other items such as stationery and calendars from the card catalog.

This program gives holiday purchases a special meaning because givers know that they also are giving the gift of hope to those who have diabetes. All of the proceeds go toward helping research investigators and diabetes and its often severe complications.

To receive a holiday card catalog, interested persons may call the affiliate office, 1-314-968-5198. Buyers must allow five weeks for delivery.

YMCA is offering noon yoga class

The Granite City YMCA is offering a noon yoga class on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. The class runs in four week sessions that are continuous until June.

Ellen Wilson is the instructor of the class. She is a certified yoga instructor who has been teaching and lecturing in the Granite City area for 10 years. Mrs. Wilson says the class uses the yoga techniques to loosen up the body and relieve tensions.

Many people who attend the class come in from their downtown businesses during their lunch breaks. The class is geared to give the participants maximal body stretches and relaxation exercises with a minimal time limit. The class is 45 minutes long to ensure the workers time to return to work.

All residents of the Tri-City area are welcome to the class. For further information, interested persons may contact the YMCA at 676-6720.

NOON YOGA: Ellen Wilson (far right), YMCA yoga instructor, is leading noon classes through June at the YMCA facility. The class is held at noon to encourage downtown workers to attend during their lunch hours.

51 persons participated in Project Avalanche

The first Project Avalanche was held recently at Camp Sallateeska, Pickneyville, Ill. Fifty-one students and adult staff participated in this drug abuse prevention weekend.

Project Avalanche is an educational and peer leadership training program. It is founded on the belief that every person has the capacity to make sound decisions regarding life based on accurate information and an understanding of one's self and motivations.

The purpose of Project Avalanche is to bring together professional resources and teenagers from the counties of Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Washington, Clinton, Bond and Randolph to share information, explore issues and examine feelings about alcohol and other drug misuses and related life problems.

Project Avalanche, as well as Operation Snowball, are programs developed out of the Illinois Teenage Institution on Substance Abuse. All of these prevention programs have the common purpose of providing young people with the education and skills to choose not to use alcohol and other drugs, and to be positive peer influences in their respective communities.

Project Avalanche is supported by schools and individuals who provide scholarships for Project Avalanche participants. These groups include: Collinsville Charity Golf Classic, Institute of Mind Dynamics, Kiwanis Club of Collinsville-Sunrise, Thomas Goodnick Memorial Fund, Collinsville Education Association, Youth Advisory Board of Evanston, Madison Mothers School Club, Belleville Jaycee Auxiliary, Belleville Police Benefit Association, Wayne and Judith Green and the Riverbend United Way.
